

SECOND CALL

Called the Miners Out of Bed Early Monday Morning

AND THEY STRUCK THE COAL HARD.

Repeating the Same Story Every Day and Have Announced

WILL TOLERATE NO INTERFERENCE

Total Output of County Even Greater Than the Record Breaking Day of the "First Call."

In answer to the second strike order, issued by District President J. D. Wood, of the Union Mine Workers, and addressed to the miners of Hopkins county, which took effect Monday, not more than 50 men quit, out of the 2,000 employed in the county. Committees of union miners visited the mines Monday morning, and formally invited the men to quit work. The operators were prepared and did not permit union representatives to trespass on their property.

More men worked in the mines of the county Monday than any day for weeks. They went to work here and elsewhere. In a gay humor and gave committees the horse laugh. Some, however, have fired of agitation and notified union men they will not tolerate any interference.

A shooting scrape occurred at the Monarch mine Sunday, between union and non-union colored miners, in which about a hundred shots were exchanged, and two men wounded. Twenty or twenty-five, employed at that mine, stayed out. At Oak Hill mine, where the powerhouse was burned Saturday night, every man went to work. Rumor said there would be women on the committee at St. Charles, and several wives of miners turned out to meet the female part of the committee at St. Charles, which did not appear.

In issuing this call, President Wood apologizes for issuing a second strike order, which he says "is not in keeping with the rules of the organization. But it appears the coal companies, or parties not known to us, have the miners under a wrong impression consequently we issue this appeal to all miners to quit work, in compliance with the strike order of the above named date."

The quoted words are from the text of his published call which was given out several days ago and published in the Madisonville Hustler of last week.

The first order referred to was issued November 26. On that day the call was ignored by the miners of the county, who celebrated the occasion by going in full force to the mines and producing a quantity of coal exceeding any former day's output.

Notwithstanding the shortage of cars at the mines the total output of Hopkins county mines Monday was another record breaker. The output of Monday was over 6,000 tons of coal from the mines in this county, the losses at certain mines being more than overbalanced by the gains made by the St. Bernard group of mines.

The non-union mines outside of Hopkins county, at Sebree, Providence and Empire, had full forces at work Monday. Providence was short of cars and did not run a full day.

On Tuesday morning committees were again out at some of the mines—some here and there—but with the remembrance of Monday's failure and in their attempt to call out the men and at the same time to keep themselves off the property of the coal companies, they acted without hope or effect. The mines of the county all ran as usual Tuesday and put out a full day's work except where railroad cars were scarce in some instances. Monarch mine had more men in than on Monday.

Wednesday morning the same story was repeated. No committees made their appearance about Earlinton mines, however, having concluded their efforts were entirely fruitless. At Barnsley some fifteen union miners gathered on the railroad to challenge men who should come from Mortons Gap to the Barnsley mine. They accosted two men only and after that dispersed upon the arrival of officers, fearing charges of intimidation in the courts.

The two thousand employed miners of Hopkins county seem to have made up their minds to pursue the even tenor of their way and defend their right to peaceful employment and the pursuit of happiness without the consent of Jim Wood or any of his associates in idleness.

There is indication of a tense feeling of resentment against interference by union representatives. Two colored agitators from Indiana were in Earlinton Monday night for the purpose of holding a meeting. They were disturbed, however, by signs of a demonstration by the colored miners and stayed in the house of a friend all night, leaving town the next morning. Several farmers have been in Earlinton this week and offered their services to protect life and property, having heard that threats were being made by union leaders who were disappointed that the strike order was ignored.

Everything is moving quietly and smoothly about the mines and the work goes on as usual.

Gentry's Animal Actors.

The coming of the Professor's dog and pony show may be looked forward to this year with greater pleasure than ever before, for it is stated by good authority that the performance is all new and strictly up-to-date. This attraction has always been a great favorite and the engagement should, and doubtless will be a profitable one.

Professor Gentry has always provided good entertainments for his patrons, and this season he has eclipsed all of his former efforts in a most marvelous bit of training that closes the entertainment in place of the old pyramid of dogs and ponies. It is a highly exciting fire scene, liberally set off by the comical efforts of the dog and monkey firemen while saving the life and property of the inmates of the burning mansion.

The Professor is booked to appear under a large waterproof tent at Madisonville, April 26. Admission, children 25 cents, adults 35 cents.

TOO CHILLY FOR THE CROPS.

Outlook for Fruit Encouraging, but Farm Work Progressing Slowly.

The United States Weather Bureau's crop report for the week says:

"The past week has been too cool for crops of all kinds. Nothing was injured by the cool weather, but the growth of all vegetation was checked. Wheat continues to improve and the outlook is much more satisfactory; in some localities it is reported to be fully up to the average for the time of the year.

"Tobacco plants are in good condition but growing very slowly, on account of the cool weather. "Corn land has generally been broken and considerable planted in southern and western portions of the State, but the cool weather and rains have delayed the work. "A large acreage of potatoes is being planted and some garden truck is being planted.

"The outlook for fruit is very encouraging. Peaches are in bloom in nearly all sections, and plums, cherries and apples are beginning to bloom in the southern and western portions of the State.

"Grass in meadows and pastures and oats and rye are looking healthy, but advancing slowly. Old clover was badly winter killed, but new clover is doing well.

"Farm work is progressing fairly well. Light frosts were reported in some localities, but no damage resulted. Warm weather is needed."

Diamond Ring Found in a Turkey's Crop.

A few months ago a woman visitor at the farm of a citizen up Ashford way, while scattering corn for the chickens and young turkeys, lost from her finger a valuable diamond ring. A faithful search or the gem proved without avail, and it was naturally concluded that the ring had been swallowed by some one of the fowls in its eagerness to partake of the corn.

A day or so before Thanksgiving one of the turkeys of the flock fed by the woman when the gem was lost was killed, that it might adorn the festive Thanksgiving board. By a peculiar coincidence, the same woman was again visiting the house. The crop of the turkey was unusually large and distended, and, when opened, was found to contain a handful of corn, two suspender buttons, somewhat the worse for wear; half a dozen shingle nails, two poker chips, a piece of second-hand corn plaster, two canceled postage stamps, seven toothpicks, a partly digested spool of thread and the ring.

For Earlingtonians.

Those who wish to see Mr. Walker Whitesides and company, in "Heart and Sword," at Mortons Theater, Wednesday, May 1st, can secure seats at this place from W. S. McGary. This is a strong attraction, and as the season is drawing to a close, the management expect a rush for seats when they are put on sale.

Unions Locked Out.

Newport, Ky., April 16.—Today notice was posted on the doors of the huge factory of the Wadsworth Watch Case Company in Newport, where a strike has been in progress, that hereafter no union labor would be employed. Other watch case manufacturers have taken the same action.

"Roanoke," a story of Old Virginia, will be at the Earlington Opera House the latter part of the month.

COAL OPERATORS

WILL BE SUED.

Action Against Indiana Operators to Prevent Collection of Strike Fund.

CONSPIRACY AGAINST

KENTUCKY OPERATORS.

For Purpose of Coercing Them to Unionize Their Mines.

Evansville, Ind., April 15.—Operators in Evansville have received notice that they will be made defendants in a damage suit brought by the St. Bernard Coal Company to prevent the collection of dues of miners in the United Mine Workers' Union. It is a law of the union that companies must withhold a certain sum of miners' wages to be paid over to union officials as dues to the union. This the St. Bernard Company charges is a conspiracy against their business since it is said these dues are being sent to Kentucky to be used as a strike fund to coerce the said St. Bernard Company to unionize its mine. There is an intimidation law in Kentucky, and it is under this law that the suit is brought. The question of how such a law will affect Indiana operators will be brought out in the United States Court if any such suits are brought to trial.

ISAAC TODD KILLED.

Shot by Roscoe Garrett at Nortonville—Garrett Has Fled.

A tragedy was enacted at Nortonville Tuesday evening about 6:30 o'clock which threatened to lead to further trouble before the night was over, but which ended with the death of one man and the escape of his slayer.

Isaac Todd, a young man employed at the Oak Hill mines, was shot and killed by Roscoe Garrett a short distance east of the railroad depot near where the highway crosses the railroad. Todd was a non-union miner and Garrett was a union miner and an ex-employee of the Oak Hill company and this fact, added to the feeling of the two men's friends, came near producing further trouble. A good many men were in Nortonville Monday and Tuesday. The union men were disappointed at the failure of the second strike order and there had been much drunkenness. Garrett fled after the shooting. Both men were young. Todd was a son of Esquire Josh Todd formerly a magistrate in this county.

It is reported there is no little feeling over the affair at Oak Hill and Nortonville.

At the Earlington Opera House.

Manager McGary has booked Hal Reid's greatest play, "Roanoke," a story of old Virginia, to appear at the Opera House the latter part of the month. The date will be announced later.

Democratic Primary.

Returns of the Democratic primary held Saturday give the nominations to the following:

DOWN IN THE MINES.

The "final" call has been issued so Jim Woods says, and the miners have done the rest. The miners in this county have become acquainted with these calls which have been made so often recently. It has been a common thing for the home-loving miner, on route to the mines to work, to meet one or more of these agitators who by threats and lies seek them to come out or suffer the consequences. So far a deaf ear has been turned to these appeals and we believe in the honesty and good judgement of our miners in general and that they will never suffer themselves to be led astray by those who have nothing to give in return, and will work with the same vim and determination to resist all attempts to interfere with their duty and right to earn a living for themselves and families.

The burning of the engine house at Oak Hill last Saturday night was a hard stroke upon the miners and operators there. They have lately entered upon a new era of prosperity. The machinery was bought and paid for and the managers were proud of being out of debt. The miners who had declared themselves free and independent and were working along well pleased with their condition are also heavy losers. But with the good feeling that prevails between the managers and workmen they will soon find a way to rebuild and repair the engine house. It is rumored that it was the work of an incendiary, but there is no proof as to the truth of the rumor. As misery loves company the members of the poverty society will feel proud to hear of the misfortune that has befallen the Oak Hill miners. If they can't work themselves they want others who won't sacrifice their manhood by joining their order, to remain idle.

Said a keen observer a few days ago: "The presence of members of the U. M. W. here and their efforts to organize this place has already proved disastrous to our town. Thousands of dollars would have been spent here this year on improvements, but the shape of new buildings if the trouble-makers were not here. As it is the money and mechanics will lay idle to a great extent." This is a serious question to consider. If even their presence without power causes such a depression in business what would their control of this place do? Property now worth thousands of dollars would so decrease in value that it would have to be sold at half its value. The car shops at this place would in a short time practically shut down, thus throwing a small army of men out of employment. And where coal mines are concerned business would be almost entirely killed. Experience has shown that great coal consumers cannot rely on union miners to fill a contract, as the most trivial thing sometimes causes a cessation of business and the mines are shut down.

Barton Critchfield, of St. Charles, will see his family at Madisonville last Sunday and stopped here on his return. He reports business good at St. Charles although there are quite a number of union men in that region, yet they have not used force to stop the miners. What causes Barton to approach profanity is the fact that some scheming politicians are calling around and attempting to use the union as a political move in the interest of the Democratic party.

There are 900 plants in operation in the bituminous mining districts of Pennsylvania, requiring twelve mine inspectors. Under the provisions of the present law an inspector is allowed, at a salary of $3,000 a year, for not less than 60 nor more than 90 mines.

The labor agitators seem to have given up the struggle in Colorado, and all of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company's mines are now reported to be in active operation.

The Canon City miners returned to work on March 27. The agitators failed to organize the company's miners for a general strike.

It should be remembered that men employed as sworn officers for our coal companies have rights that even U. M. W., although claiming to be a privileged class, must respect. These guards treat all with proper respect and expect the same in return.

Among our people can not be found a worse citizen than the one who becomes an agitator. For many years he has prospered under the leadership and kind treatment of his employer, has lacked neither for work or means; if a day of sickness overtook him and his money ran short, one, both medical and financial was given him; if he wanted a few dollars for a pleasure trip, the money was advanced. Such has been the condition of the employees of the St. Bernard Coal Company, and yet we are sorry to state, an agitator occasionally found wanting in that gratitude which goes to make a man truly good. But it must be said, to the credit of the St. Bernard miners, that but few of them can be found in that class and that fact was plainly shown this week as it has been for months past. They justly regard the man who will turn his back on a company that has befriended both himself and family as a traitor.

Chas. Iglehart is one of the last indicted union agitators to be arrested on bench warrant under indictment of the last grand jury. He was placed under $200 bond. The indictment is for intimidation.

One C. H. Plackman is a new scab from Madisonville to the U. M. W. Journal. "How is this for prevalence?" He signs it —

"The operators are telling the colored miners that the union is a white man's trick and it is all that we can do to get them to quit work. If we come here to better the condition of the miners of Hopkins and adjoining counties around. We have now about 90 per cent of the old miners in the union, though they have imported 30 or 40 farm hands. We are sorry to say that the colored men stand in the way of thoroughly organizing this district."

REWARD OFFERED.

Two Hundred Dollars for Arrest and Conviction of Barnsley Powder Blowers.

The St. Bernard Coal Company has issued a reward offer of $200 for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who produced the powder explosion last week at Barnsley, which was fully reported in last week's BEE.

REWARD.

"Two Hundred Dollars reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who exploded a keg of powder on the porch of the house at Barnsley, Ky., occupied by John Duncan, on the night of Tuesday, April 9, 1901.

"St. Bernard Coal Co." Duncan is a colored miner employed by the St. Bernard Coal Co., at its Barnsley mine. The house, which was set on fire by the explosion, is owned by John Sharp, an engineer for the same company.

A Genuine Treat.

It would seem from the report that a genuine treat was in store for the theatre-goers on the night of May 1st, when Mr. Walker Whiteside and his company will present his new romantic comedy, "Heart and Sword," at Mortons Theater, Madisonville. Shipman Brothers have furnished Mr. Whiteside with an entirely new production of this play, the original having been destroyed in the burning of the Contes Opera House, Kansas City. By a special offer, Messrs. Morton and Ruby have induced Messrs. Shipman to send Mr. Whiteside to Mortons Theater for one night. The date is Wednesday evening, May 1. Theatre-goers of this vicinity are indeed fortunate in having this rare opportunity to see Mr. Whiteside in his great success.

Earlington people who wish to secure seats should call on W. S. McGary.

LATE PHILIPPINE NEWS.

Trial of the First Case in the Commissary Scandals Brings Out Important Disclosures.

SAMPLE WELCOME TO THE COMMISSION.

Aguinaldo's Delay in Issuing His Manifesto Advising Government Surrender Causing Comment—The Assessment of Gen. Luna Likely to Cause Agreeable Trouble.

Manila, April 13, 2:25 p. m.—The trial of Sgt. Memon, the first case in the commissary scandals, began with the startling disclosures expected. Two witnesses testified that quantities of four were taken from a government warehouse and sold by three commissary sergeants and two others, who divided the proceeds. Finck, proprietor of an American bakery, was incriminated and other business men were also involved. The extent of the illegal sales has not been ascertained.

A SAMPLE WELCOME.

The "San Commission's" Welcome to San Jose De Buena Vista.

San Jose De Buena Vista, Antique Province, Pangasinan, Philippine Islands, April 12.—When the United States Philippine commission arrived here the members were welcomed by the inhabitants of the town who had erected an immense festal arch. Every village of Antique province was represented by delegates. A statue of liberty, erected on the town's principal square, named after Washington, had pictures of Abraham Lincoln, President McKinley and the president of the commission, on its pedestal.

Province Wholly Pacific.

The province has been wholly pacified since the recent surrender of the insurgent leader, Fulon, and the aspiration for a provincial form of government is unanimous.

The commission has mailed to Washington detailed recommendations for the form of general civil government to be established in the archipelago. The legislative council is expected to consist of four of the present commissioners and three Filipinos; the latter to be appointed by President McKinley.

Lieut.-Col. Wm. S. Scott of the Forty-fourth volunteers, assistant commander of Antique province, has been made its governor, while Lieut. Fred F. Wilson, of the same regiment, has been appointed provincial treasurer.

AGUINALDO'S MANIFESTO.

Delay in its issuance is causing comment at Washington.

New York, April 13.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: Aguinaldo's delay in issuing the manifesto advising general surrender of the insurgents and delivery of arms and their acceptance of American sovereignty is causing comment. Officials of the war department assert their faith in Gen. MacArthur's ability to induce Aguinaldo to issue the desired declaration. Aguinaldo has demanded certain conditions as a preliminary to this action, and a discussion has occurred on the points which he has named.

Some of the Preliminaries.

Before the address is issued it is expected it will be called in full to the secretary of war for submission to the president, and will be amended by the authorities here if amendment is desirable. Under instructions, Gen. MacArthur is closely guarding Aguinaldo, both to prevent his escape and to prevent any injury being done him by friends here who might surprise him. Lieut.-Col. Clarence Edwards, who was the adjutant general of Gen. Lawton's column, said that there seemed to be very little doubt that Aguinaldo had given instructions for the death of Luna.

The Assassination of Luna.

Luna was killed in Cabañatuan by one of Aguinaldo's bodyguards, who had been drawn up in honor of the insurgent general, who, Col. Edwards said, was the last of the Philippine service. Aguinaldo had sent a peace commission to treat with the Americans, but Luna had arrested them and sent his own commission. Jealous of his popularity with the army and desiring to preserve for himself the dictatorship, Aguinaldo, Col. Edwards added, is believed to have given the orders which resulted in his rival's assassination. Luna had many enemies here and it would not surprise officers here should an attempt be made on Aguinaldo's life in revenge for the assassination of the popular insurgent officer.

Summoned to Home.

Manila, April 13, 2:25 p. m.—Archbishop Chapelle, the papal delegate in the Philippines, has been summoned to Rome. He will sail soon, and his return here is improbable.

FAST LIFE IN MANILA.

Excessive Tastes Brought Out by the Commissary Scandal Trade in the Philippines.

Manila, April 16.—The trial of Commissary Sergeant John Memon, charged with complicity in the commissary scandals, is finished. No verdict was announced, and Memon's conviction is uncertain. Other trials of those implicated will follow.

Capt. James C. Read, formerly depot commissary at Manila, has been arrested.

It is alleged that entries upon the books of Evans & Co., government contractors, indicate that the commissary officers received the following sums: Maj. George B. Davies, $1,000;
Capt. Frank H. Lawton, $750;
Mr. B. L. Tremaine, Col. Woodruff's
chief clerk, $700.

It also appears that Evans & Co.
furnished the handsome residence of Col. Woodruff.

Harold M. Pitt, manager of Evans & Co., who is now under arrest, was notoriously lavish in entertaining commissary officers, while the depot commissary, a frequent visitor of the depot district, occasionally spent days at Pitt's house in questionable society. Pitt's house is a bachelors' home, and prominent officers frequently visited it, drinking champagne and playing poker. Women of doubtful reputation have often been known to be there. It is alleged that Pitt had the inside track in securing government contracts and it is also asserted that he was the prime mover in the scheme to re-establish cock pits in Manila. Mrs. Lara being suborned in securing a cock pit.

SAD DEATH OF A HERO.

Youngstown, O., April 16.—After have resulted in death, J. C. Wilson, a pipe fitter, whose home is in Salt Lake, fell off a platform yesterday afternoon, at the plant of the Ohio

ing instantly.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 17.—A deer-bridge across Eighteen Mile creek, 18 miles from Buffalo on the Nickel Plate railroad last evening. Six men sent with them to the quarry bed, 80 feet below. Two were so badly injured that they died within half an hour after the accident. Four others were brought to the Emergency hospital in this city. At midnight the surgeons said it was doubtful if two of them would live until daylight.

THE NEW BATTLESHIP MAINE.

Philadelphia, April 17.—It has vates may be one day back in

Depopulating Ireland.

London, April 13.—The official report of emigration for Ireland shows that 47,000 persons left that country in 1906. This is 10.5 per thousand of the estimated population. The emigrants were equally divided between the sexes.

The Week's Fatalities.

RICE-GROWING INDUSTRY.

Efforts Under Way to Foster and Stimulate the Cultivation of Rice in the United States.

INFORMATION TO BE SOUGHT ABROAD.

The Agricultural Department Will Send Out an Expert to Thoroughly Investigate the Subject in the Principal Rice-Growing and Rice-Consuming Countries.

Washington, April 17.—Secretary
Wilson has decided to send out an expert to secure the rice-growing countries of the world and thoroughly investigate important matters connected with the industry. This mission, which is to stretch into the villages and uncultivated parts of the world, probably will be entrusted to Prof. Knapp, of Louisiana, who returned about a year ago, from an official trip of investigation in the orient. The start will be made about next July. It is proposed to hunt out the rice-growing countries, ascertain what they feed both to their beef animals and the work teams, what rice can be grown on high land that can not be irrigated, what legumes can be used for forage for animals used in the rice industry, and a host of other kindred questions. Great success in rice-growing is reported in the rice fields along the Gulf coast of Louisiana and Texas, and Secretary Wilson wishes to know the reasons for success the production in the United States of all the rice consumed within the country. The rice consumption per capita will increase very materially, he says.

The United States is now exporting rice and other second-class rice, which makes excellent food to Porto Rico. There is a good market for it there, although the second-class rice heretofore had been fed to animals or sold to brewers. Secretary Wilson believes that the future will find this country in the first rank of rice-growing countries. The coming mission to the east with a view to gathering information on the whole subject is expected to yield good results.

An out-of-worker at Barnsley has sought to pawn his revolver for fifty cents to swell his fund to marry on. This sounds like a turning to peaceful pursuits and a beating of the sword into the pruning hook.

It is now in order for defeated candidates, from jailer up, to announce in the local press, at so much per announce, that they are glad they got licked and will fight for the party till the last day in the morning.

The Lesson of the Cloverport Disaster.

From the Louisville Post, March 19.

The prompt action of the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis Railway in throwing open its property in the vicinity of Cloverport for the accommodation of the sufferers of the recent disastrous fire in that city and the no less generous action of the same road in chartering a relief train at its own expense and forwarding supplies on the same day should serve as an object lesson to the entire State and as a crushing rebuke to those grasping politicians who, for several years, have made hostility to railroads their sole battery.

It was, of course, to be expected that the people of Breckinridge county, the citizens of Louisville, Henderson and Owensboro would hasten to the assistance of the inhabitants of the stricken city. The destruction of Cloverport was a disaster that affected the entire State of Kentucky.

It would be impossible for even the coldest hearted to withhold sympathy to the people of the historic town on the Ohio, who, almost in the twinkling of an eye, saw their entire business portion and many of their residences swept out of existence. The aid so promptly proffered was, therefore, more in the nature of the payment of an insurance policy than of a gift. Any other city in the State would have expected and received the same assistance under similar conditions, and if it had been Cloverport that had been saved and some other city that had suffered the people of Breckinridge county would not have been behind in their contributions. The only possible consolation for the disaster is that it has perhaps served to draw the people of the country and the people of the city closer together and to show them in times of trouble they can depend on each other.

The action of the railroad was different in many ways from that of the State. It has been so often the custom in the past few years in this State for orators to describe railroads as soulless corporations, entirely devoid of any feeling for the people and rather preferring to crush and enslave than to be of any real benefit, that some worthy people have been taught to believe that only harm can come from a railroad. It is terrible to consider what might have been the fate of Cloverport or what might have been the fate of any similarly stricken community if it were not for the railroad. Outside of the aid which the road itself offered it would have been extremely difficult and tedious to bring supplies to the scene in any other way. If the railroad had not been in operation it would have been days before any assistance could have arrived. The fire engine could not have been brought down from Evansville, the relief supplies could not have come from Louisville, Cloverport happening to be on the river, would have enabled supplies to be brought after considerable delays by water, but they could not have been so prompt or so efficacious, and if the fire had occurred in an inland town without railroad communication the disaster would have been far more serious.

It is true that in proffering assistance the officials of the railroad were actuated by a wise policy as well as humanity. The fortunes of a railroad are indissolubly connected with the country through which it runs. It is as much dependent upon the prosperity of the people along its route as is a great city by the back country. No State can remain prosperous without an ample number of railroad systems, and no railroad can secure profit unless the territory through which it runs is in good business condition.

The time has come for ambitious politicians to realize that they cannot permanently support their fortunes by indiscriminate warfare against capital. Texas has tried this before Gov. Hogg, of the Lone Star State, staked his political existence in a fight against railroads and in an effort to keep foreign capital out of the State. The people of Texas preferred Hogg to the railroads and the largest State in the country in point of territory has about the smallest mileage. Capital now shuns Texas as it would Central America, and the growth of the State has been retarded for a generation.

It is well enough to insist that railroads should be required to bear their share of the public burdens and that special privileges should be given charity, but for the mere sake of distributing a few offices among a selfish set of politicians to prevent the building of more railroads or to discourage those that we have to make further improvements is little less than suicidal folly. It is safe to predict that the people of Cloverport will not countenance this policy in the future.

Blood.

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor.

There is nothing else to live on or by.

When strength is full and spirits high, we are being refreshed, bone muscle and brain, in body and mind, with continual flow of rich blood.

This is health. When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood, is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. It sets the whole body going again—man, woman and child.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, by enclosing this card, to SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 109 N. Third Street, New York.

WEST POINT CHANGES.

Teaching Staff Loses One Popular Member. Another Advanced.

West Point, brought prominently before the public by the recent blazing investigations, has gone back to the even tenor of its way, and the large and efficient corps of instructors is again turning out of the gray stone buildings young officers for the United States army. Successful cadets, it will be remembered, receive commissions as lieutenants in the regular army. All the members of the West Point teaching staff hold rank in the regular army.

Two recent changes in the teaching body of the Military academy deserve

Captain Charles G. Treat, extended notice. West Point has just lost its most popular man, Colonel Peter S. Michie, by death. Colonel Michie had been professor and head of the department of natural and experimental philosophy since 1871 and was the best beloved man at the "Point." The office to hold Professor Michie's position must necessarily be one of the highest scientific attainments and standing in the world of physics and electricity.

Colonel Otto L. Hehn, who has held the position of commandant of cadets and instructor of tactics at the Military academy since 1867, will retire from that position in June and be succeeded by Captain Charles G. Treat. With the position go the rank and pay of a lieutenant colonel. The retiring commandant is usually referred to as Colonel Hehn, although in actual rank he is only a captain. Captain Treat has been artillery instructor of the academy for about a year and is quite popular among the cadets. He is a graduate of the West Point class of '82. For meritorious service during the Spanish-American war he was commissioned major of volunteers.

ENGLAND'S RICHEST WIDOW

Once Well Known American Woman Inherits a Large Fortune.

To readers of this generation the name of "Tennie C. Clavin" has no familiar sound, and few know much about her history. But newspaper readers of 30 years ago recollect very well the remarkable woman, whose husband, Sir Francis Cook, has just died and left her a fortune of millions, making her the richest widow in England.

To adequately describe the careers of Lady Cook and her equally famous sister Victoria, now the widow of John Eddilph Martin, would take a volume. They read like the dreams of romancers. Beginning as American country girls, these two remarkable sisters have been faith curers, stock-brokers, advocates of "free love" and a good many other things. Victoria was the candidate of the Woman's Suffrage party for president in 1872. After inaugurating the notorious Boucher-Tilton scandal they went abroad and married two rich Englishmen.

Tennie C. Clavin was married in 1885 to Sir Francis Cook, a millionaire and immensely wealthy. Since then her life has been cast in quieter places, and she has devoted herself and her husband's money to philanthropic and sociological work. Some two years ago she announced her intention of opening a stockbroker's office in London. She has done a great deal of writing on her favorite subjects of philanthropy and sociology.

CRAP GAME ENDS IN SHOOTING.

Colored Miners Quarrel Over a Game and one is Wounded.

John Suttle and Newt Snorton, two colored miners employed at the Monarch mines, Madisonville, engaged in a crap game Sunday afternoon and quarrelled. Suttle claimed a quarter was due him and asked Snorton for it. The latter replied it did not have it, whereupon Suttle pulled his pistol and fired three shots, striking Snorton just above the left eye. The wound was at first thought serious, but an examination proved that it was only a scalp wound and he will doubtless recover. Suttle is in jail.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. The people along the route seem to be afraid of Henderson now since smallpox is reported there, and the result was that the excursion train last Sunday was not very well patronized.

Caught a Dreadful Cold.

Marion Cooke, manager for T. M. Thompson, a large importer of fine machinery at 158 Milwaukee Ave., Chicago, says: "During the late severe weather I caught a dreadful cold, which kept me awake a night and made me unable to attend my work during the day. One of my friends was taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a severe cold at that time, which seemed to relieve me so quickly that I bought some for myself. It acted like magic and I began to improve at once. I am now entirely well and feel very pleased to acknowledge its merits." For sale by Dr. Bernard drug store, Earlington, Ben T. ### A Birthday Celebration.

The eighty-first birthday of Mr. M. T. Winstead, of Madisonville, Ky., was celebrated at the home of Mr. G. A. Eudaley, Noho, Ky., Mrs. Eudaley being one of his daughters. Many of Mr. Winstead's children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren were present but many could not be present on this occasion. Those present were: M. T. Winstead; G. A. Eudaley and wife, Fannie, Mazie and Glen Eudaley; Mrs. W. E. Barron, Allie Barron; Mrs. A. F. Winstead, Frank Winstead and wife, Joe and Posey Winstead; M. T. Winstead, Jr., and wife, Nannie, William and Paul Winstead; Mrs. Fannie McCall, Fay Stoy McCall; Mrs. W. B. Davis, Strother and Frank Bell Davis; J. T. Ligon, wife and infant daughter, and Ruby Ligon; Mrs. J. D. Couch and infant son; Mrs. J. G. Solomon and son David; W. B. Payne and wife, Coralee, Jessie and Claude Payne; W. T. Barron and wife and B. M. Currie.

For several years the children of Mr. Winstead have been keeping this day as a reunion day and as time bears them on, no doubt they feel more sensibly every year the fact that they will not be able to have their venerable father with them much longer. All reverence and respect were paid him on this occasion and at the most exalted seat at the groaning dinner table he was placed, and heartily he joined in the merriment of the repast. Five courses were served and nothing was found lacking to make the day one of great pleasure and joy. Mrs. took the picture of the happy group after dinner and then all joined in conversation, music and songs.

Too quickly the day was past and as they all bade each other farewell and went to their homes they carried with them the memory of another glad reunion. May the memory of these glad occasions be a blessing unto all who from time to time shall take part in them. Mr. Winstead was healthy and strong for a man of his age and may live to be the honored one at many more such occasions.

A STRONG ATTENTION.

Mr. Walker Whiteside and Company, in "Heart and Sword."

Mr. Walker Whiteside and his company will appear at Morton's Theatre, Madisonville, Wednesday night, May 1, in the delightful romantic comedy, "Heart and Sword." Of Mr. Whiteside there is nothing but praise to be written. He charms audiences everywhere. In appearance, voice, manner, gesture he is attractive—all that he should be. He is new to the South, but is winning laurels in all the principal cities.

The play, "Heart and Sword," is a picturesque comedy and is said to be bright and witty in dialogues and absorbing in plot. The prose are praising the stage settings to the skies. The "Berry Bush" Inn with its quaint effect and rustic of fallen leaves, in the second act, is novel and pretty.

The setting for the third act represents the tapestry chamber of Princess Sylvia in the Castle of Steinhausen. The walls of the chamber are covered with eight tapestries each being a reproduction of a famous painting.

The supporting company is excellent, including such well known names as Misses Lolla Wolstan, Helen Wilcox, Adeline Raffetto and Messrs. W. B. Mack, Lawrence Evans, J. L. Saphore, Louis Erohoff, etc.

Scale Fixed By United Mine Workers injures Their Business.

Evansville, Ind., April 15.—A peculiar mining situation is presented here, causing a general suspension of operations. The United Mine Workers are responsible. They have fixed scales for Indiana and Kentucky which enable Kentucky operators to produce coal cheaper than can Indiana operators, which prevents competition and allows Southwestern Kentucky operators to flood the Evansville market with their coal.

The Indiana mining officers were here to-day trying to reach a solution, but thus far without result. Several hundred men here must now remain idle or desert the union forces.

A Good Thing.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German Physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in Medicine. It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and Long troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cents. The juice of the green pineapple, says the London Globe, is accredited in Java, the Philippines and throughout the East generally, with being a blood poison of the most deadly nature. It is said to be the substance with which the Malays poison their kreeses and daggers, and to be also the "finger nail" poison formerly in use among the aborigine Javanese women almost universally. These women cultivated a nail on each hand to a long, sharp point, and the least scratch from one of these was certain death.

LEFT THE GOLD BEHIND.

The Three Gold Bars Stolen From the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse's Treasure Room Found.

THIEVES COULDN'T GET THEM ASHORE.

They were discovered by a Steward During the Cleaning of the Ship After her Arrival at Bremen—The Particulars of the Find Not Yet Given Out.

Bremen, April 14.—It is authentically reported that the three gold bars stolen from the specie room of the North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse during that vessel's last trip from New York were discovered by a steward during the cleaning of the ship near the second cabin.

The report of the recovery of the missing gold bars is officially confirmed.

The gold bars were discovered behind a cupboard in the corridor outside of the second-class saloon by Steward and Magers. The police have reopened their investigations.

NEWS SENT TO NEW YORK.

Report of the Find Cabled to the Company's New York Agents.

New York, April 14.—Oelrichs & Co., agents for the North German Lloyd Steamship Co., have received a cablegram fully confirming the report from Bremen of the recovery of the gold stolen from the specie room of the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse. This cablegram gives no details beyond the facts that the gold was discovered on the ship by a steward and had been turned over to the agents of the company, Herman Winter, of Oelrichs & Co., said.

"Yes, we have found the gold, and now to get the thief or thieves. We will make a most searching investigation. It seems clear that whoever took the gold either lacked the opportunity to get it ashore or failed in courage. My advice gives no information as to the circumstances of the discovery and do not indicate that anyone is suspected."

The National City bank, consignee of the stolen gold, was also notified of its recovery.

The finding of the gold on ship creates the impression that some member of the crew was the thief but the absence of details leaves the matter open.

IMPRESSED WITH AMERICA.

An Intelligent Englishman Returned Home Gives His Views of America.

London, April 13.—The Daily Mail publishes an interview with Mr. Fred Harrison, president of the London postpaid committee, regarding his recent visit to the United States. "I was deeply impressed," said Mr. Harrison to the Daily Mail representative, "by my American trip. I found a clear intellectual atmosphere, a broad tolerance and an universal hospitality which delighted me. I was much struck with the evidence of deep thinking exhibited by students in the American universities.

"I visited many cities, but nowhere did I see a sign of a hint of animosity toward England."

Mr. Harrison expressed the opinion that it was advisable for England to pay less attention to foreign affairs and more to her energetic commercial and industrial competitors in the United States.

DECISION IS AGAINST UNION.

Pennsylvania Supreme Court Says Union Can't Entice Away Non-Union Employees.

Philadelphia, April 15.—The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in an opinion today, holds that members of the American Federation of Labor have no right to entice apprentices working in a factory to become members of the glassworkers' union. The case upon which the opinion is based is an appeal of P. J. Skelly and others, members of the glassworkers' union, from the judgment of the Allegheny County Court, restraining them from interfering with the apprentices of Charles L. Flaccus, a glass manufacturer of Tarentum, Pa. The Supreme Court dismisses the appeal at the cost of the members of the union.

The opinion says, among other things, that the manufacturer had the right to employ workmen who were independent of any labor union, and he had the further right to adopt a system of apprenticeship which excluded his apprentices from membership in such unions, and no one had a right to interfere with it to his injury.

The court found that the interference was injurious to him, and if allowed to continue, would ruin his business.

A somewhat sensational occurrence took place in our neighboring city of Providence one day last week.

It seems from the information which has reached us that a young lady of that place met a young man on the street. She was armed with a pistol and a buggy whip. He at first started to resist when one of the young ladies' friends presented a double barreled shotgun and ordered him to stand, whereupon the young lady proceeded to apply the whip where it would do the most good. It is said that she whipped him until completely exhausted.

GREAT GUNS AT PAN-AMERICAN

Uncle Sam Will Show Mammoth Coast Defenders at the Buffalo Exposition.

It has sometimes been said by unthinking people that the seacoast cities of the United States are not well defended. A flood of new light will be let into such gloomy minds by the Ordnance exhibit of the War Department at the Pan-American Exposition. When the Exposition opens for its six months' season at Buffalo on May 1 of this year, the early visitor will find the largest and most powerful guardians of our seacoasts ever exhibited by the United States Government. Even the smaller of the two great new guns in the Government exhibit at the Exposition will be larger than any ever before displayed by our Uncle Sam.

Captain Peter C. Harris, who represents the War Department, in charge of the entire war exhibit, has been engaged actively for months upon his great work of collecting the newest display of the kind ever made in this country. It was an absurd question perhaps that I asked when I inquired if his exhibits would be ready on May 1, as though there were any other alternative for a soldier. The Captain looked reproachfully at me.

But of the guns—great guns, indeed; big about as a locomotive boiler, thirty odd feet long, with a more savage muzzle than ever conceived destruction upon any hostile fleet; built with the accuracy of a watch; so delicate in adjustment that a little finger may traverse the gun, thus moving a weight of nearly half a million pounds, yet a machine to erupt a volcano blast and to create an earthquake at the will of man!

The big gun of which I speak is a United States Army twelve-inch breech-loading rifle, model of 1885, mounted upon a disappearing carriage. Its weight, stripped of everything, even the breech block, is 115,000 pounds. Its total length is 28 to 30 feet. The maximum diameter at the breech is 44.5 inches. It throws an armor piercing shell weighing 1,000 pounds, four feet long, carrying a bursting charge of 234 pounds of gun cotton. The charge of powder is 250 pounds of smokeless or 490 pounds of brown prismatic powder. The muzzle velocity is 2,657 feet per second. The power of penetration in steel at the muzzle is 30.9 inches, at 1,000 yards 28.5 inches, at 2,500 yards 25.5 inches and at 3,500 yards 22.5 inches. The total weight of the gun and carriage is 477,500 pounds. The carriage is twenty-five feet in diameter at the base, and the gun when in firing position is seventeen feet above the base of the carriage. When the shot is fired, the recoil causes the mechanism to lower the gun seven and one-half feet, behind the parapet. The gun has an accuracy of aim for about eight miles, and the extreme range is about double that distance.

As I have said, guns of this type have never before been exhibited by the United States Government, and source of eight to ten pounds of black powder, was adopted, and in 1831 the forty-two pounder, with a caliber of seven inches and using ten to fourteen pounds of black powder, came into use. In 1844 the light and ten-inch Columbiads fired a shot weighing sixty-five pounds and used a charge of ten to fifteen pounds of black powder. The ten-inch shot weighed 120 pounds, and the powder charge was eighteen and twenty pounds.

In 1861 the first fifteen-inch Rodman gun was cast. These guns were smoothbores of cast iron. The process of manufacture was evolved by General Rodman, who, to prevent injustices from the exterior, cast these guns on a hollow core and cooled by a stream of water or air passing through the core. Rodman's fifteen-inch gun fired a shot weighing 425 pounds with a charge of forty pounds of black powder and was the first great gun introduced in modern times in any service. Just before the Civil War rifled muskets and guns began to displace smoothbores. Captain Parrott's rifle was the first one of large caliber used in the United States service. The largest of these had an eight and ten inch bore and were cast hollow and cooled from the interior on the Rodman plan. They were strengthened by shrinking a coiled band of wrought iron over that portion of the gun which surrounds the powder charge. The eight-inch Parrott rifle fired an elongated projectile weighing 150 pounds with a charge of sixteen pounds of black powder. The ten-inch rifle fired

MORTAR IN FRONT OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT BUILDING, PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

The Endicott Board on Ordnance and Fortifications a number of years ago decided in favor of the disappearing carriage, and the department has been laboring to obtain a satisfactory one. The one shown at the Pan-American Exposition is considered the most perfect in the world.

The ten-inch breech-loading rifle is from the model of 1885 and weighs 115,000 pounds. Its total length is 28.75 feet, and the diameter of the breech is thirty-seven inches. The projectile is a armor piercing shot or shell. The shell carries a bursting charge of 224 pounds of gun cotton and weighs 1,000 pounds, having a length of four feet. The solid shot is three and one-half feet long. The powder charge is 180 pounds of smokeless powder, and the muzzle velocity of the model is 2,657 feet in a second. The maximum pressure per square inch is 37,083 pounds. The muzzle energy with the charge of smokeless powder is 21,083 foot-tons. The gun has a penetrating power of twenty inches in steel at 2,500 yards.

At the right of the ten-inch gun a twelve-inch mortar has been mounted, and it is no small affair. Further to the right is a five-inch rapid fire gun. All are mounted behind sections of a parapet, and the four pieces represent one gun of each type used in seacoast fortifications.

To the left of the great twelve-inch disappearing gun will be exhibited the old seacoast ordnance of the United States, arranged in a historical series, the twelve-inch gun itself representing the climax. Near the small building specially constructed for this purpose will be displayed the mounds, field and siege guns of the present day, together with types of old guns used in the different wars in which the United States have been engaged.

The Ordnance exhibit will show the historical development of ordnance in the United States, a gun representing every type adopted by the United States and showing the evolution of guns, mortars and howitzers. Among the howitzers will be one made in 1763. There will also be thirty or forty trophy guns, displayed according to period of capture. A novel feature will be a trophy mounted representing a bursting shell, with water spouting from its crevices. This will be mounted on a pile of projectiles, surrounded by trophy guns.

The largest guns mounted in any of our seacoast batteries during the war of 1812 were twenty-four pounders, the diameter of bore being less than six inches and the weight of guns 5,500 pounds. They were a little over ten feet long, and the powder charge was six and eight pounds of black powder. They were mounted upon wooden carriages. In 1829 thirty-two pounders, with a caliber of 6.41 inches, using a

They are designed for use in seacoast fortifications, to which no visitors are admitted under any circumstances. The gun was manufactured at Watervliet Arsenal, near Troy, N. Y. The carriage was made at the Watervliet Arsenal, near Boston. The disappearing carriage was designed several years ago by Captain Buffington, now Brigadier General and Chief of Ordnance, and improved and adapted to modern steel rifles by Captain William Crozier, Ordnance Corps, United States Army. It is known as the Buffington-Crozier carriage. The mounting of these mammoth pieces of ordnance has been in the immediate charge of Lieutenant R. H. C. Kelton and a small detail of artillerymen.

COULDN'T BE HAZED.

Two Cadets Who are Said to Have Failed West Point Seniors.

Although the recent investigation of the system of hazing in vogue at West Point may not have killed or even "scathed" that ancient institution, it did settle one thing. Never again, in all likelihood, unless it be for some real offense, will a lower class youngster be called on to fight an upper class man of superior height, weight and age because of the youngster's refusal to be hazed. The cadet corps itself has decided that point, and a good thing for the Military academy it is.

Around the spectacular scenery of West Point still float the memories of men who not only refused to be hazed to an extreme degree, but who also "knocked out" all the upper class men sent against them to compel submission. When the congressional committee asked whether a "plebe" or first year man, was not always called out to be "licked" and asked further whether that was not his inevitable fate, the statement that a former "plebe" had whipped every man with whom he had fought astonished the investigators. He is credited with whipping more than 30 upper class men in rapid succession. Captain Frank Schoeffel of the Ninth Infantry and John Patrick Sullivan of Louisiana are the two men for whom the honor is claimed.

Captain Schoeffel finished his course in the academy and obtained his commission. He upheld his reputation as a "first class fighting man" in China and in the Philippines. He also went with his regiment to China, but illness prevented him from doing active service there. Captain Schoeffel is a strong, erect young man, 6 feet 12 inches in height and well built. He has a keen, sharp, determined looking face.

Unfortunately for the good of the service Cadet Sullivan was found deficient in mathematics and was dropped from the cadet corps in 1907. He was a tall, rawboned youth from Louisiana, who well upheld the reputation of his name for stolid prowess. Like Cadet Schoeffel, Sullivan never "spilled for a fight." He was good natured and submitted to most of the ridiculous demands of the upper class men. Only when they found that he could use his hands he was called on to fight, and the pugilistic demands on his time prevented that high standing in studies demanded at "the Point."

Massachusetts Girl Intends to Cross the Ocean in a Small Boat.

Very few 18-year-old girls would care to make a trip across the Atlantic in an open boat, however fond of salt water they might be. company Captain W. A. Andrews, who has made several trips across deep water in such a diminutive craft. Miss Carpenter's parents have given their consent to her proposed voyage, and she expects to start next June. Needless to say, the Massachusetts girl is a thorough seaman, at home in the water and familiar with every detail of small boat sailing.

OUR COLORED CITIZENS.

A very interesting mass meeting was held at Masonic hall Sunday afternoon. Everyone present was loyal to peace and honest labor.

Rev. A. J. Jackson, of Madisonville, was here Sunday. He will fill his appointment at Hecla Sunday. Everybody is invited to hear him. Rev. Jackson is a good man and Hecla should do her best to shine for him for he is a pastor that loves his sheep.

The employees of the St. Bernard Coal Co. should not feel too much like they are favoring the company by not following the union, but they should feel that it is to their interest for the company can close down and not have any work done for years, but many of them have made liberal investments of their good, liberal earnings hence we must "keep the plow moving in the ground."

If the St. Bernard employees want a lesson in economy let them join the union. It requires from $8 to $10 per week for their families now but if they join the union they will only use 80 cents per week.

L. Gatewood has been confined to her room with an abscess on her finger.

W. D. Johnson, editor of the Kentucky Standard, spoke at Madisonville Monday night to a large crowd of non-union miners. He made an able speech against the union and showed up some of the union leaders in their true light.

A FEW THINGS.

Mind will ever triumph over matter—that's good.

Brain and wealth are on the side of religion—that's true.

Energy, skill, thrift, common sense, good management, economy, temperance and honesty are the tools of wealth, hence wealth will ever triumph over poverty—that's right.

The St. Bernard employees went to work on the 15th as though nothing had been said by the agitators—that's their duty.

There is a stronger cement than money holding the St. Bernard and its employees together—that's honest principle.

There is a set of persons going about to stir up the minds of the quiet and prejudice the minds that are satisfied and take food from the dependent—that's mean and devilish.

The 37th Psalm paraphrased: Fret not thyself because of the U. M. W., neither be envious against the worker of iniquity. For they shall soon be cast down like the grass and wither as the green herb. Trust in the Lord and work right on so shall thou dwell in the land and verily thou shall be fed. Psalm 37: 1-4. Read the whole.

The loyalty of the miners in the employ of the St. Bernard Coal Company was fully proven on the 15th and fully came up to what said company had a right to expect. Yes, we repeat, the company had a right to expect everything to turn out just as it did. We do not boast or threaten but we are determined to persuade the even tenor of our way. We are perfectly satisfied with the ability of the gentlemen by whom we are employed, and no man or set of men shall come on their property and attempt to destroy the pleasant business relations that have always been existing between us. We are not organized as mine workers, hence we deny the right of that body to attempt in any manner to coerce us. We are free American citizens, fully capable under the employ of the company employing us, to take care of ourselves and we notify the world that until the St. Bernard Coal Company orders otherwise, we will continue as at present, unimpaired of the existence of those whose record is one of questionable methods and a menace to good government.

On the morning of the 15th, it looked to your corresponders as if a big picnic was going on. The 825 men who work in the mines at Earlington were about early with their big dinner pails, (all full ones) and on their way to the mines. The very antics that the drivers rode to the mines looked interested, and ready to kick any United Mine Worker that might attempt to interfere. The boys, well, they just gave the laugh to the so-called committee of U. M. W. who proposed to advise them they must quit work and live off the blood money, wrung from women and children, as do the tired members of the order who quit good work and wages. This was the day of the "call" so long talked of and threatened by Jim Wood. The result of the day's work by the St. Bernard men was sufficient answer—4025 tons of coal sent to market—the call of demagoguery, tyranny, insolence, debauchery and starvation, to honest men to quit work, put the answer right in the face. All hail to the honest workers of Hopkins County. They are well worthy to be called men.

To the threats made by the U. M. W. as to what they would do if this "call" was ignored, we will see. Prudent men will hesitate before adding further injury to the insults heretofore heaped on the 2,000 miners of this county. One organizer stated a few days ago, "We are not going to lose this strike. We will kill off a lot of them scabs or blow them to hell if we can't win any other way." Such fool talk as this simply makes the 2,000 working men of Hopkins County smile, as do the threats of the union to bring in men from Illinois and elsewhere to force men to quit work.
